INSTRUCTIONS

1. IMMEDIATELY AFTER THE COMMENCEMENT OF THE EXAMINATION YOU SHOULD CHECK THAT THE TEST BOOKLET DOES NOT HAVE ANY UNPRINTED OR TORN OR MISSING PAGES OR ITEMS, ETC, IF SO, GET IT REPLACED BY A COMPLETE TEST BOOKLET.
2. Please note that it is the candidate's responsibility to encode and fill in the Roll Number and Test Booklet Series A, B, C or D carefully and without any omission or discrepancy at the appropriate place in the OMR Answer Sheet. Any omission/discrepancy will render the Answer Sheet liable for rejection.
3. You have to enter your Roll Number on the Test Booklet in the Box provided alongside . DO NOT write anything else on the Test Booklet.
4. This Test Booklet contains 80 items (questions). Each item comprises four responses (answers). You will select the response which you want to mark on the Answer Sheet. In case you feel that there is more than one correct response, mark the response which you consider the best. In any case, choose ONLY ONE response for each item.
5. You have to mark all your responses ONLY on the separate Answer Sheet provided.
6. All items carry equal marks.
7. Before you proceed to mark in the Answer Sheet the response to various items in the Test Booklet, you have to fill in some particulars in the Answer Sheet as per instructions sent to you with your Admission Certificate.
8. After you have completed filling in all your responses on the Answer Sheet and the examination has concluded, you should hand over to the invigilator only the Answer Sheet. You are permitted to take away with you the Test Booklet.
9. Sheets for rough work are appended in the Test Booklet at the end.
10. Penalty for wrong Answers :
THERE WILL BE PENALTY FOR WRONG ANSWERS MARKED BY A CANDIDATE IN THE OBJECTIVE TYPE QUESTION PAPERS.
(i) There are four alternatives for the answer to every question. For each question for which a wrong answer has been given by the candidate, one-third of the marks assigned to that question will be deducted as penalty.
(ii) If a candidate gives more than one answer, it will be treated as a wrong answer even if one of the given answers happens to be correct and there will be same penalty as above to that question.
(iii) If a question is left blank, i.e., no answer is given by the candidate, there will be no penalty for that question.

General Study Paper II

Many people who are looking to get a pet dog get a puppy. There are many reasons why people get puppies. After all, puppies are cute, friendly, and playful. But even though puppies make good pets, there are good reasons why you should consider getting an adult dog instead. When you get a puppy, you have to teach it how to behave. You have to make sure that the puppy is housebroken so that it does not go to the bathroom inside the house. You have to teach the puppy not to jump up on your guests or chew on your shoes. You have to train the puppy to walk on a leash. This is a lot of work. On the other hand, when you get an adult dog, there is a good chance that it will already know how to do all of the previously mentioned things. Many adult dogs have already been housebroken. Many adult dogs will not jump on or chew things that you do not want them to jump on or chew. Many adult dogs will be able to walk on a leash without pulling you to the other side of the street. Puppies also have a lot of energy and want to play all of the time. This can be fun, but you might not want to play as much as your puppy does. Puppies will not always sleep through the night or let you relax as you watch television. On the other hand, most adult dogs will wait on you to play. What is more, they will sleep when you are sleeping and are happy to watch television on the couch right beside you. There is one last reason why you should get an adult dog instead of a puppy. When most people go to the pound to get a dog, they get a puppy. This means that many adult dogs spend a lot of time in the pound, and some never find good homes. So if you are looking to get a dog for a pet, you should think about getting an adult dog. They are good pets who need good homes. 1. The author apparently thinks that puppies are (a) bad pets because they take too much work to own (b) friendly, playful, and a lot of work (c) not as cute as adult dogs (d) not as playful as adult dogs 2. As used in paragraph 2, which is the best synonym for behave? (a) listen (b) understand	(c) train (d) act 3. The main purpose of paragraph 2 is to explain how puppies (a) are very immature (b) do not make good pets (c) can be very destructive (d) are a lot of work 4. As used in paragraph 2, which is the best example of a dog that is housebroken? (a) Spot goes outside to use the bathroom (b) Rex always breaks things inside of the house (c) Rover never jumps on guests (d) Muffin chews on people's shoes 5. According to the passage, why are adult dogs easier to take care of than puppies? I. Puppies need to learn how to walk nicely on a leash II. Adult dogs have less energy than puppies do III. It is harder for adult dogs to find a home than it is for puppies (a) I only (b) I and II only (c) II and III only (d) I, II, and III 6. Based on information in the passage, which of the following statements is false? (a) Puppies have a lot of energy (b) Puppies need a lot of attention (c) Adult dogs do not like to play (d) Adult dogs do not need eat very much 7. As used in paragraph 4, which is the best synonym for relax? (a) work

(b) leave (c) play (d) rest 8. The author begins paragraphs 3 and 5 with the phrase, "On the other hand." This phrase is used to (a) highlight an example (b) contrast previous information (c) contradict a later statement (d) support the upcoming paragraph 9. In the final paragraph, the author says, "many adult dogs spend a lot of time in the pound, and some never find good homes." Based on what you have read in the passage, why is this most likely the case? (a) People see adult dogs as unhappy and dangerous, while they see puppies as cute and friendly (b) People understand that most adult dogs still need to a lot of training before they understand how to behave properly (c) People think that puppies are cute and playful and do not always think about how much work it will take to train them (d) People do not want to get a dog that does not have much time left to live 10. Based on information in the passage, it can be understood that someone who owns a puppy must be (a) strict (b) serious (c) careful (d) responsible King Louis XVI and Queen Marie Antoinette ruled France from 1774 to 1789, a time when the country was fighting bankruptcy. The royal couple did not let France's insecure financial situation limit their immoderate spending, however. Even though the minister of finance repeatedly warned the king and queen against wasting money, they continued to spend great fortunes on their	personal pleasure. This lavish spending greatly enraged the people of France. They felt that the royal couple bought its luxurious lifestyle at the poor people's expense. Marie Antoinette, the beautiful but exceedingly impractical queen, seemed uncaring about her subjects' misery. While French citizens begged for lower taxes, the queen embellished her palace with extravagant works of art. She also surrounded herself with artists, writers, and musicians, who encouraged the queen to spend money even more profusely. While the queen's favorites glutted themselves on huge feasts at the royal table, many people in France were starving. The French government taxed the citizens outrageously. These high taxes paid for the entertainments the queen and her court so enjoyed. When the minister of finance tried to stop these royal spendthrifts, the queen replaced him. The intense hatred that the people felt for Louis XVI and Marie Antoinette kept building until it led to the French Revolution. During this time of struggle and violence (1789-1799), thousands of aristocrats, as well as the king and queen themselves, lost their lives at the guillotine. Perhaps if Louis XVI and Marie Antoinette had reined in their extravagant spending, the events that rocked France would not have occurred. 11. The people surrounding the queen encouraged her to spend money (a) wisely (b) abundantly (c) carefully (d) foolishly 12. The minister of finance tried to curb these royal _____ (a) aristocrats (b) money wasters (c) enemies (d) individuals A few minutes ago, walking back from lunch, I started to cross the street when I heard the sound of a coin dropping. It wasn't much but, as I turned, my eyes caught the heads of several other people turning too. A woman had dropped what appeared to be a dime. The tinkling sound of a coin dropping on pavement is an attention-getter. It can be nothing more than a penny. Whatever the coin is, no one ignores the

sound of it. It got me thinking about sounds again. We are besieged by so many sounds that attract the most attention. People in New York City seldom turn to look when a fire engine, a police car or an ambulance comes screaming along the street. When I'm in New York, I'm a New Yorker. I don't turn either. Like the natives. I hardly hear a siren there. At home in my little town in Connecticut, it's different. The distant wail of a police car, an emergency vehicle or a fire siren brings me to my feet if I'm seated and brings me to the window if I'm in bed. It's the quietest sounds that have most effect on us, not the loudest. In the middle of the night, I can hear a dripping tap a hundred yards away through three closed doors. I've been hearing little creaking noises and sounds which my imagination turns into footsteps in the middle of the night for twenty-five years in our house. How come I never hear those sounds in the daytime? I'm quite clear in my mind what the good sounds are and what the bad sounds are. I've turned against whistling, for instance. I used to think of it as the mark of a happy worker but lately I've been associating the whistler with a nervous person making compulsive noises. The tapping, tapping, tapping of my typewriter as the keys hit the paper is a lovely sound to me. I often like the sound of what I write better than the looks of it. 13. The sound of a coin dropping makes people (a) think of money (b) look at each other (c) pay attention to it (d) stop crossing the street 14. People in New York (a) don't care about emergencies (b) are used to sirens (c) are attracted by sounds (d) don't hear loud noises	15. The writer (a) sleeps next to the window (b) has lived in Connecticut for a long time (c) believes in ghosts (d) is interested in fire engines 16. How does the author relate to sounds at night? (a) He imagines sounds that do not exist (b) He exaggerates quiet sounds (c) He thinks taps should be turned off (d) He believes it's rather quiet at night 17. He dislikes whistling because (a) he is tired of it (b) he used to be happier (c) it reminds him of tense people (d) he doesn't like workers 18. What kind of sound does he find pleasant? (a) tinkling sound of a coin dropping (b) clinking sound of keys (c) tapping of his typewriter (d) creaking sounds 19. How does the writer feel about sounds in general? (a) They make him feel at home (b) He thinks they should be ignored (c) He believes they are part of our lives (d) He prefers silence to loud noises All of Francoise Duparc's surviving paintings blend portraiture and genre. Her subjects appear to be acquaintances whom she has asked to pose. She has captured both their self-consciousness and the spontaneity of their everyday activities, the depiction of which characterizes genre paintings.

But, genre painting, especially when it portrayed members of the humblest classes, was never popular in eighteenth century France. The Le Nain brothers and Georges de La Tour, who also chose such themes, were largely ignored. Their present high standing is due to a different, more democratic political climate and to different aesthetic values. We no longer require artists to provide images of humanity for our moral edification but rather regard idealization as a falsification of truth. Duparc gives no improving message and discretely refrains from judging her subjects. In brief, her works neither elevate nor instruct. This restraint largely explains her lack of popular success during her lifetime, even if her talent did not go completely unrecognized by her eighteenth century French contemporaries. 20. According to the passage, modern viewers are not likely to value which of the following qualities in a painting? (a) The technical elements of a painting (b) The spontaneity of the painting (c) The moral lesson imparted by the painting (d) The degree to which the painting realistically depicts its subject 21. If the history of Duparc's artistic reputation were to follow to that of the Le Nain brothers and Georges de La Tour, present-day assessments of her works would be likely to contain which of the following? (a) An evaluation that accords high status to her works (b) Acknowledgement of her technical expertise but dismissal of her subject matter as trivial (c) Agreement with assessment made in her own time but acknowledgements of the exceptional quality of a few of her paintings (d) Placement of her among the foremost artists of her century 22. It can be inferred from the passage that the term genre painting would most likely apply to which of the following? (a) A painting depicting a glorious moment of victory following a battle (b) A painting illustrative a narrative from the Bible	(c) A portrayal of a mythological Greek goddess (d) A portrayal of a servant engaged in his work 23. The argument of the passage best supports which of the following contentions concerning judgments of artistic work? (a) Aesthetic judgments can be influenced by the political beliefs of those making the judgment (b) Judgments of the value of an artist's work made by his or her contemporaries must be discounted before a true judgment can be made (c) Modern aesthetic taste is once again moving in the direction of regarding idealistic painting as the most desirable form of painting (d) In order to be highly regarded, an artist can not be solely identified with one particular kind of painting What are the basic elements in the laughable? The first point to be made is that the comic does not exit beyond the pale what is strictly human. A landscape may be charming and sublime, or insignificant and ugly. It will never be laughable. One may laugh at an animal, but only because one has detected in it some human expression or attitude. Another element to note is the absence of feeling which usually accompanies laughter. Indifference is its usual environment, for laughter has no greater foe than emotion. The comic demands a momentary anesthesia of the heart. Its appeal is to the intelligence, pure and simple. This intelligence, however, must always remain in touch with other intelligences. Laughter appears to need an echo. However spontaneous it seems, it always implies a kind of secret freemasonry, or even complicity, with other laughers, real or imaginary. To understand laughter, we must put it back in natural environment, which is society. 24. The author is primarily concerned with (a) criticizing those who laugh at certain people and situations (b) discussing why laughter is an antisocial action (c) identifying three different kinds of comedy (d) pointing out some general characteristics of that which is comic

25. Which of the following statements about laughter is best supported by the passage? (a) Some one who is ugly can not at the same time be laughable (b) Someone who pities a person can not at the same time laugh at that person (c) Laughter begets more laughter, since more than one intelligence is needed for comedy (d) Because of the absence of feeling which laughter requires, the object of a joke is indifferent to it 26. Which of the following examples could be best be substituted for the author's example of the animal?(Sentence 4) (a) A hat with a shape reflecting the human caprice that has molded it (b) A wave that is about to knock over a woman standing on a beach (c) A person spinning a ball with his feet, as a seal spins a ball on its nose (d) A play on words by a comedian An important development in the twentieth century literary criticism was the growth of the New Criticism. The New Critics assumed that the methods devised for reading long poems could be applied to novels. In practice, this meant a new emphasis in the reading of fiction on scrupulous textual analysis as a prerequisite for biographical and ideological commend. A novelist's ideas were now significant mainly as components of his or her writing technique. Insisting on close attention to a text, the New Critics analyzed long passages of a novel and concentrated on discerning the development of symbolic patterns. By analyzing symbols in this way, the critic could show how the meaning of symbol accrued as it was repeated in different passages. This permitted a more complete understanding of the symbol to emerge than that which could be discovered through isolated symbol-hunting. One novelist who benefited from this new emphasis on text was D.H.Lawrence, whose work was rescued from hostile critics who had attacked as mere ideology. 27. According to the passage, the New Critics considered the ideas found in a novelist's work to be (a) equally conducive to treatment in a poetry or fiction	(b) important primarily as aspects of the novelist's style (c) ambiguous and therefore stumbling blocks to informed critical judgment (d) most easily analyzed when embodied in a symbol 28. The author alludes to D.H.Lawrence in order to give an example of a novelist who (a) sacrificed literary techniques to ideology (b) wrote both novels and long poems (c) subscribed to principles of New Criticism (d) was reassessed because of New Critical principles 29. It can be inferred from the passage that the New Critics disliked isolated symbol-hunting because it tended to (a) encourage simplistic critical platitudes (b) reduce the role of the critic to that of a literary detective (c) enforce an unnecessary distinction between criticism and symbolism (d) oversimplify the meaning of a symbol 30. The passage implies that the New Critics would be most likely to agree with which of the following (a) Critical speculation on the connection between a novelist's childhood and his or her writing is irrelevant (b) The most scrupulously complete criticism is that which emphasizes connection between a novelist's life and his or her writing (c) A novelist's life experiences can contribute to an understanding of his or her novels, but treatment of these experiences must be preceded by textual analysis (d) Information about a novelist's life can provide important critical insight into his or her novels, but such information should be subordinated to ideological investigation
